Crank Operation

- Manual crank operation of your curtain provides easy movement. Remember to rotate both arms as you turn the crank. You will find technique is important for ease of use when rolling the curtain up and down.
- Once the curtain is rolled down attach the bungy cords to their clips or if your curtain has a bottom bar in the lower pocket, place the bar into the brackets and then crank the curtain up until tension is felt. This last step is done to keep the fabric taut and less susceptible to wind.
- When you have finished operating the curtain, we recommend removing the crank from the gear so that it does not swing freely and cause possible damage to the surrounding area

Fabric

- Any “waffling” you see on your curtain when it is in the rolled-up position is normal and unavoidable.
- The stitching used on your curtain is a Gore-tex thread which will last as long as your fabric.
